

Tools for Thriving

The Gifts of the Mothers

Join us for this heartwarming experience of exploration, healing and fun!

Sunday April 29th
10:00 a.m. – 6:00 p.m.

NSCC North Star Dining Room
 9600 College Way North, Seattle, WA 98103

$150 for individuals, $275 if registering together. ($125/$230 if reg. by Apr. 15)

This workshop could help you...

- Discover, explore & embrace where we come from & where we're going.
- Illuminate mother and child relationships, mother ancestry and the mother archetype.
- Release old patterns of over-responsibility, expectation and scarcity.

Tools for Thriving is an open workshop facilitated by Kirsten Lauzon and Rhonda Laumann. In this workshop Kirsten and Rhonda will facilitate family and systemic constellations, engaging varied ceremony, rites of passage and other rituals that honor the sacred bond between mother and child. Mothers or children do not have to be physically present. This workshop can touch your heart and open the doors of connection with those you love.

About Relational Constellations

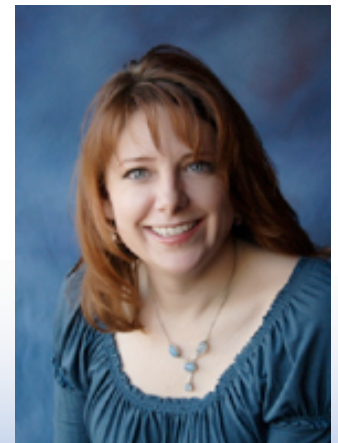

Appealing to our innate human desire to live our lives in balance and harmony, this phenomenal methodology taps into the wisdom of the systems in which we live – our family systems, community systems, and organizational systems. The wisdom illuminates and can transform the dynamics and patterns that either enhance or hinder our ability to thrive. Constellation Work is a facilitated process that explores life's complexities and skillfully transforms them so that the most harmonious outcomes may arise. Bring your life questions, issues, challenges and dreams to be explored.

About your Facilitators:

Kirsten Love Lauzon is a facilitator, teacher, dream tender, and artist who is passionate about Paleopsychology, or the Evolution of Human Consciousness. She is a dreamer and visionary who believes in the power of love and the primacy of the heart. Read more at: www.healing-earth.net.

Rhonda Laumann is a mother, facilitator, teacher, mediator, artist and lawyer who is committed to the beauty and growth of the human bond.

Visit: SeattleConstellations.org to register