We offer renewed hope by using representatives from our circle to give voice to the unseen entanglements that impact your current life, cultivating resolution and grace.

This workshop is open to all issues. Participant's families or partners need not attend.

About Systemic Constellations

Appealing to our innate human desire to live our lives in balance and harmony, this phenomenological methodology taps into the wisdom of the systems in which we live – our family systems, community systems, and organizational systems. The wisdom reveals and can transform the subtle energies and patterns that either enhance or hinder our ability to thrive. Systemic Constellations explore life's complexities, and through skillful facilitation, transform them so that the most harmonious outcomes may arise. Bring your life questions, issues, challenges and dreams to be explored.

About your Facilitator:

Mark is a Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist in private practice in Seattle. The founder and director of the Seattle Constellations Institute, Mark has been teaching and facilitating this work throughout the U.S. since 2003, including facilitating constellations for tribal members of the Muckleshoot and Lakota Nations as well as for indigenous Maori in New Zealand.
